Weekly Newsletter

THIS WEEK:

Tuesday 6th February will be Safer Internet Day.

We all understand the benefits that the internet can bring, and use this regularly in classroom teaching. Alongside this, we are fully aware of the dangers that may be encountered. Our computing curriculum includes internet safety and this is revisited regularly when the internet is accessed.

On Tuesday, we will be spending part of the day doing activities to enhance our current internet safety curriculum and would invite you to use the day to give some attention to this area.

Below is a link to the Parents and Carers area of the website.

If you wish to talk to anyone in school about internet safety, then do not hesitate to pop in.

Class Two: We have had a very busy but extremely enjoyable time this week. On Wednesday, the children went to Brimham Rocks and took part in some adventurous activities including scrambling and bouldering. The physical activities didn't stop there however as the children also had a skipping workshop on Thursday afternoon, all of which was very fun and got the heart racing!

All of these wonderful opportunities have been going on alongside the start of some lovely new topics in English and Mathematics. In English, the children have been designing a leaflet for an animal zoo and in mathematics the children have been covering statistics and decimals.

This plan has links to the overall SEND strategic plan priorities.
